Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-25, 50-51, and 111-121 drawn to an applicator tip and methods for making an applicator tip, classified in class 424, subclass 400.
  - II. Claims 26-49, 76-110, 122, 125-144 drawn to a medical adhesive applicator, classified in class 604, subclass 1.
  - III. Claims 123-124 drawn to medical adhesive applicator, classified in class 604, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, functions and effects in that the invention of Group II requires a method for making an applicator while the invention of Group I requires a method for making an applicator tip. These two methods have different modes of operation, functions and effects in that the method of Group I provides steps for applying an agent with methanol to the tip, while the method of Group II provides steps for making an applicator and does not set forth steps for applying an agent to the tip of the applicator.
3. Inventions I and III (also II and III) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions I and III (also II and III) are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation in that the invention of Group III requires a gradient of polymerization initiator that results in varying polymerization across the applicator tip.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II (as is the case for Groups I and III as well as Groups II and III), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. In the event Applicant elects the invention of Group I, the following election of species applies. These claims are directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: a) claims 26-49, 76-77, 81-110 drawn to an applicator tip and method of applying an agent to an applicator tip where the applicator has a conduit, b) claims 76, 78-80, drawn to an applicator tip and method of applying an agent to an applicator tip where the applicator does not have a reservoir.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

7. In the event Applicant elects the invention of Group I, species "a," the following election of species also applies. These claims are directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: a) bioactive materials, b) flavorants, c) polymerization initiators, d) polymerization rate modifiers.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

8. In the event Applicant elects the invention of Group II, the following election of species. These claims are directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: a) a bioactive material that is not also a polymerization initiator or a polymerization rate modifier, b) a bioactive material that is also a polymerization initiator or a polymerization rate modifier, c) a polymerization initiator that is not also a bioactive material, d) a polymerization rate modifier that is not also a bioactive material, and e) a flavorant.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 76 is generic.

9. In the event Applicant elects the invention of Group II, the following election of species also applies. These claims are directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: a) claims 26-49, 76-77, 81-110 drawn to an applicator tip and method of applying an agent to an applicator tip where the applicator has a conduit, b) claims 76, 78-80, drawn to an applicator tip and method of applying an agent to an applicator tip where the applicator does not have a reservoir.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

10. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with these requirements, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

11. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

12. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
